Cleveland State University Celebrates Constitution Day

Sunday, September 17

Join the celebration of our nation’s heritage by participating in Cleveland State University’s Constitution Day events!

Special events and activities to recognize the importance of the U.S. Constitution include:

Wednesday, September 13 from noon to 1 p.m.
A presentation titled “Lessons from Odysseus on the Nature of Constitutions”
Speaker: Kevin O’Neill, Associate Professor of Law, Cleveland-Marshall College of Law
Introduction: William Shorrock, President, Friends of the Library
Special Collections, third floor, Cleveland State University Library
Light Refreshments

Online Contest
Students can win an iPod nano, a jump drive, a VikingCash Card valued at $50, and three $15 iTunes cards!
Just visit www.ulib.csuohio.edu/promos/constitution/, answer a few questions about the Constitution, and you could be a winner!

Films and Broadcasts
Free screenings of the following films in the University Library’s Viewing Room (RT 325)

Tuesday, September 12 at 12:00 noon
Film: “Cases in Controversy: The 14th Amendment”

Thursday, September 14 at 12:00 noon
Film: “Without Due Process: Japanese Americans and World War II”

Monday, September 18 at 2:00 p.m.
In a live broadcast, General Colin Powell will lead the Country in a coordinated, nationwide recitation of the Preamble to the United State Constitution in the Library Connection Lounge located near Current Periodicals on the first floor.

Displays
Visit two Constitution Day displays—one is located just west of the User Services desk on the first floor of the University Library and the other is located outside the entrance to the Cleveland-Marshall College of Law Library—through the end of September

Cleveland State University is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Institution.