

Enter the First National Students-at-Work Contest

Prizes and fun galore! Searching for talented students who can communicate with varied media their deep understanding within any content area. Uses newly developed Student Scoring Guides and supports multiple ISTE NET Standards!

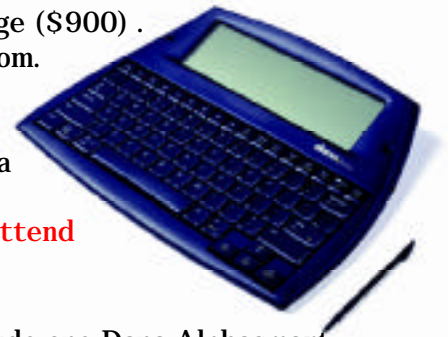

Get inspired - enter your student's tone poems, hyper-writing, visual essays, digital storytelling, video reports, or web information products today. For more details, online application packets, and access to online scoring guides see www.ncrtec.org/tl/sgsp/contest.htm. For additional resources, workshop opportunities and staff development ideas, see www.bjpconsulting.com or www.eduscapes.com. Deadline: March 15, 2004!

Prizes! Prizes! Prizes!

Many thanks to our corporate sponsors for their generous enthusiasm and commitment to supporting this learning adventure!

Up to forty-two digital product winners for student submissions and four teen teacher lesson plan winners will be selected. All students winners will win a KIDspiration t-shirt with a chance to participate in a grand prize judging round by a national celebrity panel. All Teacher winners will win a Dana Alphasmart and a classroom software package ($900). Thanks to Inspiration Software www.inspiration.com.

All student winners will receive a special invitation to attend a Students-at-Work Showcase hosted at NECC 2004 in New Orleans. Limited corporate sponsorship for school teams to attend NECC 2004 will be made available!

The grand prize packages ($850) for 14 student winners include one Dana Alphasmart (see www.alphasmart.com), one Kidspiration or Inspiration software package and a five workstation multimedia software license plus mousepad and t-shirt from ezedia. (www.ezedia.com) The teacher Grand Prize is a digital camera.

Hosted by: North Central Regional Technology in Education Consortium at North Central Regional Educational Lab (NCRTEC at NCREL), The Thornburg Center for Professional Development (TCPD), Bernajean Porter Consulting, and Annette Lamb (Eduscapes).